A vertical column of 30 empty rows, each with a yellow background and a dotted border. The rows are arranged in a single column and are completely empty of text or data.

The image shows a vertical column of 30 empty rows, each bounded by dotted lines. This represents a table structure with no data entered.
